

Terraza el Camborio

There are many different places to hang out at the Camborio. At the top there is a bar and a dancefloor situated in the centre of a large garden which has tables and chairs on different levels. From any point of the garden you have a perfect view of the Alhambra. I am fairly sure that you could count the discotheques that have a better view using the fingers of only one hand, not only in Spain but in the entire world!

The discotheque is situated in Sacromonte which is famous for its caves. The Camborio is no exception and the lower area of the disco is a labyrinth of caves which include a dancefloor, a bar and some very small rooms cut into the side of the caves which offer a quieter, more intimate atmosphere. The entrance is a typical Andalusian patio.
